

Arpita Thakore, APN

Arpita is board-certified by the American Nurses Credentialing Center as a Family Nurse Practitioner. She received her BSN degree from Rutgers University, and her Doctorate of Nurse Practitioner from Widener University in Chester, Pa.

She is a member of American Association of Nurse Practitioners and American Association of Indian Nurses of New Jersey (AAINJ).

Arpita worked in oncology as an infusion room nurse, and rejoined oncology after completing her DNP. Arpita works alongside our physicians, providing patient and family support, and participates in continued education and oncology/hematology training and conferences.

She enjoys spending time with her friends and family, traveling, reading and listening to music.

