

Mylene Go, M.D.

A compassionate and dedicated physician, Dr. Mylene Go, completed her post-graduate training in Philadelphia at Drexel University College of Medicine/ Hahnemann University Hospital in Hematology Oncology and is board certified in both Medical Oncology and Hematology.

After completing her training, she served as an attending physician at the Crozer Regional Cancer Center, a Fox Chase Cancer Center affiliate for the last seven years. During her tenure there, she served on multiple steering committees including the Breast leadership panel, Cancer Committee, and partnered with local organizations to deliver survivorship and wellness care to the local community.

Through her training and private practice, she brings forth her wealth of clinical experiences in both hematology and oncology.

She believes that patient education is very important. Informed patients make the best treatment decisions.

Her goal is not only to provide compassionate care and also to empower her patients with current standard therapy and latest advances.

To be their staunch advocate and bring together a collaborative approach to each individual.... That is personalized medicine at its best.
